

Personal Statement

With the depth of my learning, I was all the more drawn to related theories and concepts and even aspire to become an HRBP manager. To follow the interest and prepare for the career objective, I consider it necessary to have a comprehensive study of business with human resource management before entering the workforce. The MBA programme at your university is among the optimal options so far as I know.

I am confident that my undergraduate academic background has paved the way for the systematic and focused study of business administration in the postgraduate period ahead. In retrospect to the systematic study of finance in the past three years, I've accumulated abundant knowledge on management though Finance was undoubtedly the pivot of my undergraduate curriculum. Management and Accounting were

More beneficially, I also accumulated valuable hands-on investment analysis skillsets thanks to a group research experience. It was the preparation of an investment analysis report of Qiaqia Food, a renowned snack brand in the Chinese mainland, employing the two-stage dividend discount model for the absolute valuation and utilizing the P/B ratio, P/S ratio, and EBITDA for the relative valuation. I was fortunately selected as the team leader back then. Under my leadership, we transferable teamwork and leadership skills.

Aside from the academic acquisitions, various extracurricular activities also benefited me, through which I improved my interpersonal and learned to lead a team to accomplish some sophisticated business activities. The most impressive experience is the organization of the short-form video competition as the deputy chairman of the organization department of my school for eight months. I was then responsible for the

To fulfill the dream of becoming an HRBP manager inside me, I've set several small goals for myself step by step. First and foremost, it is of great necessity to have a comprehensive study of business management with a focus in human resource management in the postgraduate period, and I will also seize the golden fleeting time to acquire the level HR qualification certificate and to bury myself in practical

To my knowledge, your university is a leading one in Asia with a well-recognized reputation in the field of business administration which renders your MBA programme fairly attractive and competitive. More importantly, the MBA programme allows students the freedom to select from six streams according to their own interests or expectation, such as financial management, accounting, human resources, etc. Therefore, I am convinced that the master's programme at your university is an optimal option for me. I strongly hope to be accepted into your top-rated course.

Thanks for your consideration.
